

Français 101
Printemps 1996
Composition 1

Au pair. Paris. Cherche jeune fille ou jeune homme anglophone, Américain(e) de préférence. 3 mois en été. Faible rémunération mais beaucoup de temps libre. Possibilité de voyages avec la famille.

Your French professor didn't take you seriously when you told her that you had sent a reply to this ad found in L'Express! But here you are, in the most beautiful city in the world, working as an au pair for the summer!

Write a letter to your professor telling her as many things as you can about the French family you are living with--how many people, what their interests are, if they have any pets... Then, go on to locate the house or the apartment they live in--which "arrondissement", next to what easily identifiable monument, train station, park... Also, describe carefully the room that you were given. Finally, write about a typical day in "la capitale" and what your plans are for the the week-end.

Make sure your professor gets your letter by Tuesday, February 27.
