

National Consortium for Teaching about Asia (NCTA) &
North Carolina Teaching Asia Network (NCTAN)
present

Free seminar for K-12 teachers in North Carolina in 2016

NCTAN Spring

Date: March 26th (Sat.), 2016

Time: 8:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

(We start early to conduct videoconference session with Japan)

Topic: Education in East Asia, Films and Stories, Discussion with students from East Asia

Locations: UNC-Wilmington, UNC-Chapel Hill, and UNC-Charlotte or on-line
(each location will be filled first-come-first serve basis.)

NCTAN Summer

Date: June 11th (Sat.), 2016

Time: 9:00 a.m. – 11:00 p.m.

UNCW and Webinar (on-line). The instructions will be sent to those who applied to take the seminar.

Eligibility: The priority will be given to in-service teachers who teaches about East Asia for at least a few weeks in school curriculum.

For application and more information, visit <http://people.uncw.edu/kanoy/nctan/index.htm>

The objectives of the seminar workshops are to:

- Build a solid foundation about East Asia
- Explore ways that might make East Asia and its culture more accessible to students
- Introduce new teaching materials—books, articles, DVDs, web sites, etc.
- Learn to develop new tools for more effective teaching
- Discuss ideas with educators and alumni about what works best in a classroom

Each participant will receives a certificate of attendance and a letter for renewal credits

Upon completion of the requirements, each teacher will be eligible to apply for the study abroad tour to East Asia organized by the East Asian Institute at Columbia University.

The NCTA/NCTAN Seminar will extensively utilize East Asia resources available on the Internet. Participants will be asked to watch on-line simulcasts and use emails for all correspondences.