

Presentation

- This is a power point slide show I created to give a 10 to 15 minute presentation about Merck & Co., Inc.
- The presentation summarizes Merck's history, mission and showcases some of their medications
- This was a self initiated project to display my ability to summarize information into a short, but informative presentation
- Presentation skills are a vital part of a pharmaceutical sales representatives' job because they will make at least 8-10 presentations to doctors or other health care professionals each day
