Erratum

Due to an error during the production of this issue, the page numbers assigned to the articles in issue 6 were incorrect and overlapped with page numbers previously assigned to articles in issue 5.

The correct pagination for this issue is shown below:

Special Issue: Understanding How Personality Operates in the Social World

Editor: Todd B. Kashdan

Todd B. Kashdan and Patrick E. McKnight
Dynamic, Contextual Approaches to Studying Personality in the Social World 1177

Mark R. Leary and Ashley Batts Allen
Personality and Persona: Personality Processes in Self-Presentation 1191

Lorne Campbell and Tara Marshall
Anxious Attachment and Relationship Processes: An Interactionist Perspective 1219

Laura B. Luchies, Eli J. Finkel, and Gráinne M. Fitzsimons
The Effects of Self-Regulatory Strength, Content, and Strategies on Close Relationships 1251

C. Nathan DeWall, Timothy Deckman, Richard S. Pond, Jr., and Ian Bonser
Belongingness as a Core Personality Trait: How Social Exclusion Influences Social Functioning and Personality Expression 1281

Paul J. Silvia and Thomas R. Kwapiel
Aberrant Asociality: How Individual Differences in Social Anhedonia Illuminate the Need to Belong 1315
M. Lynne Cooper, Lindsay L. Barber, Ruixue Zhaoyang, and Amelia E. Talley
Motivational Pursuits in the Context of Human Sexual Relationships 1333

Todd B. Kashdan, Patrick E. McKnight, Frank D. Fincham, and Paul Rose
When Curiosity Breeds Intimacy: Taking Advantage of Intimacy Opportunities and Transforming Boring Conversations 1369

Elana C. Graber, Jean-Philippe Laurenceau, and Charles S. Carver
Integrating the Dynamics of Personality and Close Relationship Processes: Methodological and Data Analytic Implications 1403

The page numbers used in the online versions of the articles in this issue have been corrected.

We regret any inconvenience caused by this error.