NOTES:

"Life as it is comes to school each day. It is the school's reality. The challenge to educate, to socialize, to develop, and to help is there as it appears---not as it is hoped for---each day. There is no alternative for teachers but to accept the challenge. Reinforced with the financial, political, and moral support of the community, it is an exciting and rewarding challenge. Without reinforcement, it can be mind-boggling."

Terry Herndon, Former Executive Director, NEA
