

Artemis, Hermes and Dionysus as Liminal Deities

Characteristic	Artemis	Hermes	Dionysus tendency to violence – in general or toward humans tendency to cause non-violent trouble for humans, of serious or non-serious sorts approachability by humans, directly or through worship helpfulness to humans in tasks related to their territory tendency to provide transcendence to humans tendency to provide humans with a deeper understanding of their own liminal territory tendency to help humans through their own liminal territory tendency to cause accidental or intentional death other ...			